

Corporate Experiences on the Missouri River

Missouri River Relief is offering unique and customizable on-the-river experiences for your team members. Whether you are looking for a rewarding and fun experience for your top performers, or a way to inspire a sense of teamwork and collaboration through hands-on stewardship, we work with your team lead to build the experience that fits your needs, preferences and goals.

This is a great opportunity if you're looking for a green initiative which contributes to the environment!

Team Building Stewardship Day

- Arrive at a nearby boat ramp where you are given an orientation to the day and to the river
- Your team is armed with all the supplies (trash bags, gloves, water bottles, life jackets, and tools) before boarding our boats
- Volunteers will then be ferried to pre-scouted trash locations to work together to remove trash and tires for proper disposal
- Lunch and refreshments are provided at the boat ramp or nearby sandbar
- Leave feeling really good about having done something wonderful for our precious natural resource, while having done something unique and fun with your teammates
- Capacity for this experience is around 35 people with a corporate donation of $10,000

All supplies, refreshments and coordination is included in your tax-deductible donation which supports this program, and furthers our mission of engaging individuals and communities in the exploration and care of the Missouri River through stewardship, education and recreation.
